

Which do you think makes a better impression?

Which is better for your guests, the environment & your business's profile?

"Just because we're located near the beach doesn't mean we stick our head in the sand and we knew what was happening. Smoking is prohibited in rooms but these days we assist our guests to be responsible with their cigarette butts wherever they go to smoke by providing complimentary Personal Ashtrays. That way the environment and our property is protected and as a bonus we also receive sensational eco-friendly advertising long after our guests have departed."

Terri Robinson - The Palms Resort

You know what's happening too.

How many cigarette butts have your guests and visitors littered today in and around your property and surrounding areas?

Personal Ashtrays permanently eliminate cigarette butt litter - wherever your guests & visitors go to light up. For around $2 each. It's as simple as that.

Personal Ashtrays will also be seen, used & appreciated many times day long after your guests have left your location and wherever their travels take them.

"Just like most locations we provide complimentary shampoo, conditioner, body lotion and soap, etc and now we also provide complimentary Personal Ashtrays to our guests - and we know which one they're still carrying around with them and using many times a day, six months after they stayed with us."

Michael Nestle - South Bay Apartments

"I know for a fact that we have received new business and bookings as a direct result of providing Personal Ashtrays to our guests. No BuTTs logo printed Personal Ashtrays are an outstanding eco-friendly product."

Joleen Trenton - Sunset Motel

"Fantastic! Not only are our guests happy to abide by our no smoking in rooms policy but they appreciate the ability to do the right thing with their butts wherever they go to smoke - and they can take it with them when they leave. We've had a 100% positive response from guests - even those that don't smoke think they're a great idea."

Trevor Lee - Country Inn

"It's not only our guests that love our Personal Ashtrays. Our housekeeping and maintenance staff also think they're brilliant because they have basically eliminated cigarette butt litter in and around our property - and those of our neighbours and surrounding area."

Michelle Farnham - Paradise Point Resort

"The thing we love about our Personal Ashtrays apart from the fact that they eliminate our guests cigarette butt litter is that they're an excellent talking point that provides our hotel with ongoing eco-friendly advertising long after our guests have left."

Louise Fischer - City Central Apartments

"Thanks to our Personal Ashtrays cigarette butt litter at our property has essentially become instinct. Great product and excellent service from No BuTTs. "

Michael Collins - Karajini Eco-Retreat

"We want to encourage our guests not to smoke so we printed a think about quitting smoking message onto our Personal Ashtrays along with our logo and website."

Sharlene Wilson - Laguna Beach Resort
